Predicting the Future

:: Futurist Guest Speaker

“A person who studies the future and makes predictions about it based on current trends”.

Russell has a special talent for looking out on the horizon, analysing emerging trends, patterns and behaviours and bringing them into the ‘today’.

If you want people to sit up and take notice, have Russell as your guest speaker for a real thought provoking & entertaining start to your conference.

Looking to the Future

:: Thought Leadership Workshops

Are you ready to disrupt your thinking? What if you did something radically different? Are you stuck in the ‘ok’ factory?

If you like the status quo - Russell is not the guy! However, if you truly want to agitate your teams and start to think differently about the way the future could be, Future Factory can help you unlock insight, ambition & excitement in these amazingly good workshops.

Defining the Future

:: Strategy Facilitation & Creation

Our team can help take your ambitions, help shape a vision and a clear strategy, get your teams excited and motivated about the future and help lead on the plan to ensure you have a business fit for the future.

The Future, Today

:: Innovation & Change Programmes

The strategy is just the start, the key is how do you make it come to life.

Russell & his team can help deliver fast paced change through his embedded programme managers and his unique rocket model, bringing innovation to your business in months, not years.

Future, Next Gen
